FORMER U.S. INTELLIGENCE OFFICER

Willie Hicks, Principal of OpSec, LLC, has a diverse and extensive background in security. His career began as an Event Security Officer at Bowie State University. He then served in the United States Air Force, where he was qualified as a Small Arms Expert Marksman, and his responsibilities included guard duty for student dormitories and perimeter guard in the field.

After his military service, Mr. Hicks transitioned to civilian security roles, becoming a Special Police Officer for The Rouse Company, where he guarded retail properties in Baltimore, MD. He later specialized in dignitary protection, providing security services to various houses of worship across MD, DC, VA, PA, and NC.

Mr. Hicks's experience also extended to international locations, where he provided protection for command posts used by senior government officials for classified communications. As a Private Investigator, he has performed executive protection and surveillance details, and he has provided armed security services to businesses within the Baltimore metropolitan area.
